THE 85TH ANNUAL SCIENTIFIC MEETING OF THE JAPANESE CIRCULATION SOCIETY

September, 2020

Notice of Distribution of Posters

The 85th Annual Scientific Meeting of the Japanese Circulation Society

Esteemed Colleague,

During this unprecedented crisis caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, I wish to extend my sincerest wishes for the health and wellbeing of you and your loved ones.

The 85th Annual Scientific Meeting is scheduled to be held at Pacifico Yokohama North from March 26th-28th 2021, are well underway. It is however impossible to predict at this time the trajectory of the novel coronavirus COVID-19, as well as how it may affect the holding of academic conferences next spring. At the moment, we intend to fully proceed with holding the conference on-site, face to face. At the same time, we are also entertaining the possibility of holding a virtual or hybrid-style conference, recognizing that it may become necessary depending on the situation.

Unhindered by COVID-19, the fields of cardiology and medical care as well as aging and super-aging societies are entering a period of notable transformation, greatly supported in particular by the enforcement of the Stroke and Cardiovascular Measure Law in December of 2019. In response to this, we have chosen the congress theme of NEXT STAGE ~ Future of Medicine and Community and planned a virtual exhibition called “Future of Medicine and Community: Future HealthTech for Life.”

In order to inform the local public about these events, we have created a poster which has been attached to this message in the form of a PDF. As our call for abstracts will close next month, we hope that you will consider distributing and hanging this poster around your local facilities as well as spreading the word among your acquaintances. In addition, we are also sending a web banner and PowerPoint slide. We would appreciate if you could post the banner on your organization’s home page and incorporate the slide into any presentations or lectures you may have in order to spread the word. In exchange, we will post a banner of your organization on the following page: <https://www.c-linkage.co.jp/jcs2021/links/english>

I and the members of the Japanese Circulation Society sincerely hope for your continued health and prosperity during this unprecedented pandemic, and extend our heartfelt gratitude for your continued support of the 85th Annual Scientific Meeting of the Japanese Circulation Society.

Yoshihiko Saito
